1	It's kind of a shame that we invested in this beautiful church and yet many people don't want to use it.	4/20/2023 12:51 PM
2	Weather	4/20/2023 9:03 AM
3	I LOVE the outside mass and would love to continue being outside throughout the year - even in winter - we have the heaters and they help. I think though with extreme weather it would be better to have it inside. it's beautiful out in the fall. Also, I do worry about covid and have only gone to an inside mass once since covid and wore a mask and still felt anxious because most people weren't.	4/18/2023 7:55 AM
4	Stream on tv in hall for those who want to be inside	4/17/2023 9:58 PM
5	Only for inclement weather! I find the outdoor mass so peaceful! I also think it is a good	4/17/2023 12:58 PM opportunity for those to stems mass in their cars due to many reasons - mobility-infant- pet etc etc etc

6	I have mixed feelings about using the outside facility. The parishoners paid to have a new church, pay for heat/air conditioning, yet then sit outside in the weather elements. When outside mass began it was a great idea during COVID, however we have passed that stage. We have a beautiful worship area that only gets used 2/3 of time for weekend masses. If continuing with outdoor mass, keep it a low mass instead of dragging electronic music devices, etc. Also have eucharistic ministers at designated stations (similarly to indoor masses) versus having ministers walking around to everyone's seat. Similarly with collections have one or two drop boxes with a lid/slot to place envelopes/cash which would prevent possibility of money being blown in the wind.	4/17/2023 7:54 AM
7	It would be nice if the Mass continues to be outside, but also have audio/video into the church for those who do not want to be out in the weather (heat, rain or cold). And don't want to be in their car listening to the radio broadcast.	4/16/2023 11:25 PM
8	I love the outdoor Mass and hopes it continues. However, in extreme cold, wind or downpours, I think it should be moved i side.	4/16/2023 6:28 PM
9	I don't go to the 8:30 survey.	4/16/2023 6:26 PM
10	Have been faithful since the beginning of the outside Mass. It is a beautiful way to start the day!	4/16/2023 3:41 PM
11	I am avoiding inside crowds because I am immuno-suppressed. I have appreciated Holy Spirit's outdoor Masses, and I am grateful to have had the opportunity to attend these past years. I hope the outdoor Mass continues.	4/16/2023 2:41 PM
12	yes. There should be a temperature and a wind velocity that says inside today	4/16/2023 1:42 PM
13	Otherwise, always outside	4/16/2023 12:53 PM
14	Outside weather permitting	4/16/2023 10:32 AM
15	I would say starting in November instead of October, cuz it is still nice out in October.	4/16/2023 10:10 AM
16	Outside but if inclement weather move inside. Outside experience is unique and should be preserved.	4/13/2023 11:23 AM
17	I don't find it to be revirent enough. No kneelers esp.	4/13/2023 9:34 AM
18	Inside only when inclement weather.	4/12/2023 7:15 AM
19	Maybe outside for different occasions or once a month.	4/12/2023 7:01 AM
20	the outdoor Mass has contributed greatly to my spiritual life - by inclement - I mean really inclement	4/10/2023 8:57 PM
21	The congregation seems to socialize much more before and after outdoor Mass vs. indoor Mass.	4/9/2023 7:58 PM
22	As an incidental comment, there is so much talking and socialization before and after mass in Church and the chapel. On palm Sunday, people actually acted like they were outside.	4/9/2023 6:43 PM
23	Attended 8:30 mass for 62 yrs Now I have attend a mass in another city . 11:00 is half of my day waiting . The HOLY mass should be in a CHURCH !!!	4/9/2023 11:26 AM
24	outside mass is great starting 5/15/through oct.	4/4/2023 11:49 AM
25	Our outside Mass is very special for us, but it would be nice to inside only if the weather doesn't cooperate with us.	4/4/2023 10:51 AM
26	I would love Sat mass to be outdoors	4/2/2023 8:06 PM
27	I do not attend Sunday 8:30 mass.	4/2/2023 5:29 PM
28	While inclement weather sounds like a good idea I think it's too hard to switch back and forth. Easier to say from October through March.	4/2/2023 1:54 PM
29	I really appreciate the outdoor mass. Being out in nature is very spiritual for me. I am surprised it has lasted this long with the waning severity of Covid. Thanks for continuing it as long as	4/2/2023 1:46 PM

you have but I think I am in the minority of wanting it to continue. Probably as good a time as any to stop it. I doubt other priests would continue this in the weather.

30	Or Memorial Day through Labor Day be outside.	4/2/2023 1:35 PM
31	I agree it should be inside in severe weather, but checked this no box because you didn't include "but only, etc" on the yes side.	4/2/2023 12:44 PM
32	Yes, during the months of December through March only	3/31/2023 9:32 AM

1	When God replaced the ram for Isaac in the Old Testament, He likewise replaced Jesus for us as the sacrifice for our sins as expressed in the Gospel of the New Testament.	4/20/2023 12:51 PM
2	I am not familiar with it.	4/19/2023 9:33 PM
3	The Eucharist is the fulfillment of those contracts	4/18/2023 9:34 PM
4	By receiving the Eucharist we are in covenant with Him	4/17/2023 9:58 PM
5	Christ is the New Covenant who fulfilled the Old Testament Covenants God made with Noah, Moses and David. He is the Lamb of God who died to take away our sins and lead us to salvation. Jesus instituted the sacrament of the Eucharist for us to know that he fulfilled these covenants as the new and everlasting covenant with us.	4/17/2023 9:18 PM

72	There are multiple sequences of events and materials used that are similar to what has happened at the last supper and at mass. Beginning to learn about them from being explained at mass.	4/8/2023 2:12 PM
73	Jesus was the ultimate sacrifice for us, we no longer have to sacrifice animals because he died for us.	4/7/2023 7:22 AM
74	The Old Testament forecasts the New and the New Testament confirms the Old. Old vs new Jerusalem, Old vs New Arc of the Covenant, Old vs New Adam/Eve, Old vs New Passover/Pascal Lamb, Old vs New bread, etc.	4/6/2023 6:03 PM
75	Jesus is the fulfillment of what was begun in the Old Testament in the relationship between God and us	4/6/2023 9:08 AM
76	The whole entire story of Moses/ Passover foreshadows the sacrifice of Jesus. The lamb they sacrificed so the angel of death could pass over them is the exact sacrifice Jesus did so eternal damnation could pass over us, allowing us to live eternally with God in Heaven. The ritual of the Jewish people annually making there way to Jerusalem for the Passover coincides with our weekly ritual of consuming Jesus' body, blood, soul, and divinity through the Eucharist.	4/6/2023 8:46 AM

80	All of God's covenants led up to the institution of the Eucharist. God had a plan and that plan was fulfilled through Jesus Christ in the New Testament.	4/4/2023 1:57 PM
81	The Eucharist is the new covenant with the church. The Eucharist is the body of Christ our Lord and savior.	4/4/2023 12:51 PM
82	I think of the sacrifice that Abraham was willing to make with his son, Isaac, because of his love for God and the sacrifice our Lord made for us because of His true and everlasting love for us. I feel His love at every Mass, especially during the Eucharist.	4/4/2023 10:51 AM
83	The New Testament and the Old Testament mirror each other ,and many time in the Old Testament God continually ask for sacrifices and laws and makes covenants with His people because he loves us so much that he wants us all to be with Him in heaven. As humans we continually break our covenants so God-sent the ultimate sacrifice, Jesus. Through the Eucharist, Christ is the Ultimate ever lasting sacrifice and covenant.	4/3/2023 7:32 PM
84	The Eucharist was instituted by Jesus at the Passover meal and it builds upon that tradition.	4/3/2023 2:14 PM

91	In the Old Testament a spotless lamb was offered as a sacrifice. In the New Testament Jesus, the Beloved Son of God and the Spotless Lamb, willingly sacrificed Himself to save sinners and offer us eternal life. Jesus is the fulfillment of the Old Testament.	4/2/2023 5:29 PM
92	The Eucharist is the new covenant Christ establishes with Christians. He is the lamb that is sacrificed so we may be His people.	4/2/2023 5:04 PM
93	God's covenant was always accompanied with a sacrifice. The Eucharist is the new covenant accompanied by the sacrifice of Jesus flesh and blood.	4/2/2023 4:12 PM
94	The promises in the old, testament or covenants are fulfilled in the New Testament or new covenant. Through Jesus Christ, we have a renewed relationship with God. By partaking in the Eucharist we unite ourselves in the death and resurrection of Christ.	4/2/2023 3:16 PM
95	As far as I can see the Eucharist is also a covenant between Christ and his followers as he promises to remain in them	4/2/2023 2:47 PM
96	The Eucharist is the new covenant of our salvation. Jesus takes away our sin and we are called to humble ourselves to Charity and love.	4/2/2023 2:19 PM
97	Passover & institution of Lord's Supper/Eucharist	4/2/2023 1:58 PM
98	God made a covenant through Moses with the people of Israel to lead them out of the bondage of slavery just like God made a covenant with us through his son Jesus Christ to lead us out of the bondage of sin.	4/2/2023 1:54 PM
99	In short, the Old Testament was the for runner to the New Testament, where Jesus fulfilled the Old Jewish Laws and covenants! He spread the Kingdom of God for three years, Then, to fulfill His Father's Will, He was tortured, crucified and nailed to His Cross and died every last sin. With his glorious Resurrection, He redeemed the world.	4/2/2023 1:49 PM
100	Previous sacrifices to God, i.e. Abraham's son, Passover lamb, replaced by Jesus' perfect sacrifice.	4/2/2023 1:46 PM
101	I see some. The manna in the desert. I do look at it more as being fed by God. The animal sacrifices are such a turnoff it's hard for me to get into those traditions as Eucharistic.	4/2/2023 12:44 PM
102	Jesus personally fulfilled them.	4/2/2023 12:20 PM
103	When Abram was blessed by Melchizedek & was offered bread & wine. Consecrating bread & wine into his body & blood. The Passover. The lamb was sacrificed & eaten. The blood was splashed on the doorposts before the 10th plague. Manna in the dessert.	4/2/2023 11:15 AM
104	I do but difficult to explain.	4/2/2023 11:15 AM
105	The Eucharist is a continuation and culmination of the promises that God gave us in the Old Testament. His promise for salvation started after the original sin, and grew over time through the generations of the old testament right up to Jesus's resurrection - becoming the Eucharist.	4/2/2023 10:13 AM
106	In the Old Testament, God promised the Israelites that if they would obey His commandments and statutes that they would be His people and He would be their God. He would give them the "Promised Land" and the people would live a prosperous life. In the New Testament, Jesus promises his disciples that if they believe in Him, love God and others and celebrate the Eucharist, believing that this is His body and blood, that He would give them everlasting life in the "promised land" of the Kingdom of God.	4/2/2023 9:00 AM
107	The New Covenant relates to the Old Testament when Moses sprinkled the lambs blood on the altar. Jesus is the new sacrificial lamb	4/1/2023 7:30 PM

1	Yes, if the person understands and committed to accepting the potential change. A baptized babies would not be aware of spiritual changes that would have happened to them.	4/17/2023 6:25 PM
2	If the recipient is open to the grace	4/17/2023 9:44 AM
3	Probably does with some people, others it's a motion/ritual that occurs without much thought.	4/17/2023 7:54 AM
4	I see the sacraments as a building blocks within ones life and each a chance to specifically see the Holy Spirit acting in ones life.	4/16/2023 9:19 PM
5	I definitely see reconciliation and eucharist as forces for spiritual change. Very grateful for these two sacraments.	4/16/2023 7:24 PM
6	I believe all sacraments cause spiritual change to occur because it brings us closer to God. Baptism, Penance and last rites especially do this.	4/16/2023 6:28 PM
7	Yes because of christ	4/16/2023 6:28 PM
8	Slightly	4/16/2023 6:25 PM
9	Because they help me take away my sins.	4/16/2023 6:24 PM
10	Absolutely. Each of the 7 Sacraments is special and causes a spiritual renewal unto itself. The sacrament of Reconciliation is a privilege	4/16/2023 3:41 PM
11	Many are conscious promises before God (marriage and holy orders). Holy Eucharist is being prepared for and accepting the Body of Christ.	4/16/2023 3:30 PM
12	Often, this is hard to grasp. But a concrete example for me is that I received Anointing of the Sick before I had a serious procedure, and the Anointing gave me great comfort, serenity and hope.	4/16/2023 2:41 PM
13	However, the recipient has to be open to the change and cooperate with the graces of the sacrament	4/16/2023 1:42 PM

14	sacraments in and of themselves are not grace giving, It is faith, belief and openness to Jesus that allows the grace from God to flow to us. i.e. if a non believer receives the eucharist, nothing is received.	4/16/2023 12:21 AM
15	Yes and no. I believe the sacraments are celebrations of realities that already exists. Marriage occurs after a couple decides to spend their lives together, Baptism is celebration of a person being born a child of God, Eucharist is a thanksgiving of members of the Body of Christ, Reconciliation is a celebration of forgiveness, etc. However, I believe the sacraments "give grace" and with that grace we become more loving and forgiving members of the Body of Christ.	4/15/2023 12:48 PM
16	yes, however, everything comes down to faith.	4/15/2023 11:12 AM

18	I think they are more of a reminder of Christ's presence than a change spiritually within us	4/13/2023 7:02 AM
19	I believe the Holy Spirit actually affects change in a person's heart, if it is open, causing a closer union with Jesus. This, of course, if that person is of an age and mindset to understand and to have an open heart.	4/11/2023 7:43 PM
20	Become closer to God	4/11/2023 5:21 PM
21	that is the nature of the sacraments	4/10/2023 8:57 PM
22	through grace.	4/9/2023 7:58 PM
23	Absolutely. The sacraments give us the opportunity and the responsibility to keep Jesus in our hearts, and to be merciful to others.	4/9/2023 6:43 PM
24	If someone believes so strongly in the sacraments spiritual change could occur.	4/9/2023 4:03 PM
25	I don't always feel a big change physically but I do believe that change is happening whether we feel it or not.	4/6/2023 8:46 AM
26	Yes - receiving the Eucharist can make someone want to truly be Christlike.	4/2/2023 8:06 PM
27	Yes. We invite and accept the Holy Spirit to actively work in drawing our mind, heart, body, and soul closer to the Loving Sacred Heart of Jesus.	4/2/2023 5:29 PM

147	It would vary depending on the sacrament. Some join us to the church while others join us to someone else or God.	4/2/2023 1:35 PM
148	A sacrament is a ceremony where we believe God is totally, physically present. Sacraments are celebrated in important moments our lives, like birth, death, and marriage, and also in daily and weekly worship. When a sacrament is celebrated, physical elements like water, oil or bread are used to better help us feel God's real presence in our physical lives.	4/2/2023 12:44 PM

155	Our Sacraments connect us to God in a special way. They are outward signs that allow us to proclaim to ourselves, our church community, and our world that we believe in God, his promise to guide us through this life and his promise for new life in Heaven.	4/2/2023 10:13 AM
156	According to the catechism of the Catholic Church a "sacrament is an outward sign instituted by Christ to give grace." It is a formal act in which both a person and God participate through which the individual receives spiritual help from God to do His will of loving God in our daily lives. Each sacrament has a particular format, involving the recitation of particular prayers and the use of particular tangible elements by which we know that the sacrament is taking place.	4/2/2023 9:00 AM

1	I believe the sacraments are much more central to the Catholic faith than they are to non-Catholic Christian faiths.	4/20/2023 12:51 PM
2	I don't know	4/19/2023 6:47 PM
3	not sure	4/18/2023 7:55 AM
4	Non-Catholic Christians, believe that the bread and wine are symbols of the body and blood of Christ, but Catholics believe that the bread IS Jesus' body, and the blood IS Jesus' blood.	4/17/2023 9:58 PM
5	Yes, but Catholic baptisms are much more personable, all baptisms should be done Catholic.	4/17/2023 8:59 PM
6	Only Catholics believe in the transformation of bread and wine into the body and blood of Jesus Christ.	4/17/2023 6:25 PM
7	Not sure, have researched it	4/17/2023 12:58 PM
8	I believe that non-Catholics view communion as a symbol but not consecrated body and blood	4/17/2023 7:54 AM
9	Absolutely not. Non-Catholics believe communion is only symbolic - there is absolutely no reverence. I am not sure, but I don't think non-Catholics believe in original sin.	4/16/2023 9:11 PM
10	Probably not, although Episcopalians and Lutherans seem to be on the same page as us with Eucharist and Baptism. For other Christian communities, it seems to be all over the map. But I do think that we should welcome all baptized persons to the communion table. I believe that the sacraments have a power that we have no control over and it's not our place to put barriers in place.	4/16/2023 7:24 PM
11	I am a non Catholic Christian. I think Baptism is similar, but Communion has a few fundamental differences.	4/16/2023 6:50 PM

12	Non-Catholics do not believe it's necessary to be baptized to get forgiveness of original sin. They also do not believe the Eucharist is the actual body and blood of Jesus. They believe it's merely symbolic.	4/16/2023 4:16 PM
13	Non Catholic Christians, I believe do. Not all Religions.	4/16/2023 3:41 PM
14	I've visited other denominations over the years, and many services are very similar to our Masses	4/16/2023 3:30 PM
15	Non-Catholics do not believe in the real presence of God in Holy Communion as Catholics do, but we do have other beliefs in common.	4/16/2023 2:41 PM
16	But Im not sure a lot of Catholics believe what Catholics believe	4/16/2023 2:20 PM
17	Many think that the bread and wine are 'symbolic' of Holy Thursday. Baptism is immersion into Christianity, I think they basically think that. However some also believe that it should be a choice made in teen age or adult life. I think it is important that we are Baptized in infancy because we are born into the Catholic faith, the one true faith founded by Jesus, which is the greatest blessing ever. I find it very hard to justify Catholics who leave the faith for another church, it really hurts me physically, it has happened in my family, I have shed many tears over this.	4/16/2023 1:42 PM
18	Yes, but.... The non Catholic Christians do not believe in the conversion of bread and wine into the body and blood, just that they represent those. The act of confession is a bit different as well, with it being more of a wholesale forgiveness.	4/16/2023 12:15 PM
19	I think transubstantiation is unique to Catholic teaching.	4/16/2023 12:14 PM
20	There are Christian faiths that baptize as adults, where as the Christian accepts Christ and their faith, as we do in Confirmation.	4/16/2023 11:18 AM
21	Non-Catholics do not believe the eucharist is the actual body and blood of Christ.	4/16/2023 11:07 AM
22	Catholics believe the eucharist is the true body of Jesus Non catholics believe the eucharist it is a representation / symbol of god.	4/16/2023 12:21 AM
23	I hear that they believe that Communion is symbolic of Christ's last supper but not in the actual Body and Blood.	4/15/2023 4:06 PM
24	Catholics are the only denomination that has a Catechism for our faith and we observe all of the seven sacraments.	4/15/2023 12:57 PM
25	I really do not know. However, when non-catholics I have known attend a Catholic sacrament they usually express very meaningful positive feelings sparked by the manner the sacrament is delivered and received. They seem to want to connect more actively.	4/13/2023 11:23 AM
26	Same beliefs but different practices.	4/11/2023 5:21 PM
27	they think them more as symbols or memorials, rather than the ultimate reality that they really are	4/10/2023 8:57 PM
28	This question an be interpreted many ways.	4/9/2023 7:58 PM
29	Maybe in Baptism, but not in "Communion". I think Non-catholics believe that the bread and wine simply represents the body and blood of Jesus.	4/9/2023 6:43 PM
30	Don't think others regard the sacraments as opportunities to grow in grace.	4/9/2023 4:09 PM
31	Certainly not in regard to Communion	4/9/2023 3:20 PM
32	As my husband is not Catholic his view of Baptism is a a personal desire of the candidate to become part of Gods family. Communion for him is a commemoration of the last supper. His and others I know don't believe in the trans substantiation	4/9/2023 3:03 PM
33	I am not sure. Baptism yes, but there are a lot of different Christian perspectives concerning communion.	4/9/2023 12:44 PM
34	I think most believe baptism and communion are important parts of the Church and religion but there must be a difference somewhere since non-Catholics can't receive communion in our church.	4/9/2023 11:50 AM

35	I think non-Catholic Christians pretty much believe the same about baptism. Regarding communion they see the eucharist as symbolic	4/8/2023 7:48 PM
36	Views of communion is often different, as are the need for specific times for sacramental events, but the spiritual fulfillment and desire to partake in these events I believe are the same.	4/8/2023 2:12 PM
37	Others don't believe that communion is not Christ's body and blood	4/7/2023 8:34 PM
38	I think a lot of denominations see communion as symbolic but still meaning the same thing	4/7/2023 8:37 AM
39	There are so many denominations, it's hard to answer this Y or N. For many like Orthodox, Anglicans, and even Lutherans and Presbyterians, etc., I think they believe a lot more of the Catholic Faith than those who are Baptist, Megachurch, prosperity Bible, Calvinist. But things like purgatory, the True Presence, justification through works, tradition and scripture are opposed by most.	4/6/2023 6:03 PM
40	I think most Christians believe God has the power and potential to conduct the changes that happen during communion and baptism. However, I don't think they believe it happens as often as we believe. We believe it happens at every Mass. My answer was no but I do think most non-Christians believe he has the ability to and does on many occasions effect us in ways we regard we are effected through baptism and Communion.	4/6/2023 8:46 AM
41	no sure	4/4/2023 11:49 AM
42	Baptism, yes. The Eucharist, no.	4/3/2023 2:14 PM
43	Our Catholic faith believes the bread and wine turn into the body and blood of Christ.	4/2/2023 8:06 PM
44	Some of my non-Christian friends say that you should want to receive Jesus as your savior at an age you can express this. They don't believe as an infant you can't express this.	4/2/2023 8:06 PM
45	Non Catholic don't accept the doctrine of the Eucharist. If they did, and realized what Communion is, then they would become Catholics. Their belief on Baptism is almost the same as Catholics, but some denominations are way on left field.	4/2/2023 7:30 PM
46	Non-Catholics celebrate communion with bread and wine. Catholics believe/know Jesus is fully present ~ His Living Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity ~when we receive Holy Communion.	4/2/2023 5:29 PM
47	As we know the stumbling block that separates us is the believe that the Eucharist is the body and blood of Christ. They never know the feeling of joy and contentment after leaving the confessional.	4/2/2023 5:04 PM
48	Most non-catholics believe that communion is only a representation of Jesus not the actual body and blood of our savior.	4/2/2023 4:12 PM
49	Baptism yes, but communion is distinctly unique according to John 6.	4/2/2023 2:19 PM
50	Most Protestants (and many Catholics) don't believe Eucharist is the actual body and blood of Christ (again analogy of mother nursing her baby). Other than that yes, except for some evangelists that believe you can't lose grace through rejecting God and His ways at a later time	4/2/2023 1:58 PM
51	I believe that about baptism but communion has a deeper meaning for Catholics because it is more than just a symbol.	4/2/2023 1:54 PM
52	Maybe, but the the Non- Catholics do not believe that Jesus Christ is actually present in the Eucharist.	4/2/2023 1:49 PM
53	In some ways they do, but I know that some Christian churches take great pains to stress that their communion is just symbolic, and that Jesus didn't really intend that his words at the last supper be repeated and intended literally in the future.	4/2/2023 12:44 PM
54	I have been in other church denominations. They do not believe in transubstantiation at all.	4/2/2023 11:15 AM
55	I have seen many Non-Catholic Christians "criticize" the Catholic Church for things they think the Catholic Church believes or does, and so many are so misinformed. These people truly do not understand why we do what we do, and when I give them this added information, it does make them think. Not sure they change their mind, but it gets them wondering.	4/2/2023 10:13 AM
56	I think that most non-Catholic Christians believe that baptism does cleanse us of our sins. I	4/2/2023 9:00 AM also think that some non-Catholic Christians believe that they are saved (will go to heaven) once they "accept Christ as their Saviour" and are baptized, regardless of what they do afterwards in their lives while the Catholic Church teaches that receiving baptism is not a guarantee of a person entering heaven but depends on how well we demonstrate our love for God and others through our actions throughout our entire lives. I think that most non-Catholic Christians (and unfortunately, many Catholics as well) believe that Communion is a ritual through which we remember Christ and His love for us but does not provide us the actual Body and Blood of Christ through reception of the Eucharist, as the Catholic Church teaches. Consequently, I doubt that those who regard Communion as such a ritual would not believe that we receive any special grace or forgiveness of sins through the participation in Communion, as the Catholic Church teaches.

57	Don't know	4/1/2023 11:17 PM
58	There are too many different sects of non-catholic Christians to know or understand what they believe.	4/1/2023 7:54 AM

1	I have a difficult time believing that prayer always has the affect or result that is intended by the person praying. Therefore, I usually ask to understand the reasoning for His will, realizing that the prayer may not lead to the initially intended request, but that I accept it as God's will. That being said, I know that the sacraments that I have received have brought me closer to God.	4/20/2023 5:01 AM
2	With confession I have always felt a weight lifted off my shoulders. Marriage I have never felt so close with God before and truly felt that he has made my husband and I as one.	4/19/2023 9:33 PM

7	There are times in church where I feel so moved or touched by the Holy Spirit that it brings tears to my eyes. In those moments I feel so loved.	4/17/2023 8:58 PM
8	My whole life has been a story about impact of prayer: 1. Growing up, my chance of getting a basic high school education was essentially zero - I ended getting college degrees - through unlikely scholarships and referrals. 2. Chances of getting employed legally in the US were essentially zero - but again this happened through un-usual referrals and connections. I pray when I really need help and God have always answered in ways that I never expected.	4/17/2023 6:25 PM

Everyone got to work and after 3 months in the hospital he came home. He had to get rehabilitative services but today, at aged 32, he is happy and healthy and totally sober. He doesn't even drink or smoke. This is all due to prayer! God hears us and my son is proof. He also graduated from PSU main campus and is starting a Masters program in May. 36	My brother was critically ill with a very low chance of survival. I was out of town on a business trip and the wife of my client was in a prayer chain group through her Catholic church. I gave her my brother's name and asked her to and her group to pray for him. He pulled through very shortly thereafter and made a full recovery. I'm confident the prayers of that group and that of our family and friends made the difference.	4/16/2023 4:16 PM

when I wouldn't have in the past. I attribute this to God, working in me -- the fruit of prayer. I also at times ask God for whom God wants me to pray -- I get an answer, and sometimes I don't like it!

42	When I was pregnant with my youngest daughter I was told that my body was not producing enough progesterone and that I needed to get shots to help maintain the pregnancy - however, if I did that and it was a boy, it could cause some damage. I prayed and decided to just let God make the decision on what should happen with the pregnancy. Today I have a 23 year old beautiful daughter who has been a joy to me since the day she was born.	4/16/2023 2:16 PM
43	I believe that Marriage and family are a little church, it is our responsibility to pray for each other and to nourish each other spiritually. As parents we will stand before God and He will ask how did we raise our children and help each other get to Heaven. Most days this scares me, God is merciful, thankfully	4/16/2023 1:42 PM
44	Years ago, I was driving with my 3 young children in a big van without snow tires. A sudden snowstorm came up, and I was still miles from home. I got to the top of the last hill before we got home, and I prayed for Jesus to get us down that hill, because, I could not control the car. I literally felt arms around me, driving us safely down that hill. There is no other explanation for what happened, than that Jesus drove that van down the hill.	4/16/2023 12:53 PM
45	I was in a hotel room on a business trip. I was under intense pressure at work. I had been given increased responsibility with a lot of new projects going on simultaneously, my two assistants had been re assigned and no replacements had been assigned to my area, I had come down with strep throat hours prior to my flight departure, and I was at the end of my rope with despair. I had never felt so overwhelmed. As I laid in bed that night, for the first time in my life I asked Our Lord for help "for me". I had always thought I didn't need his help. He had provided me with everything I needed to be successful, and there were many other people in more need than me. But that night I had drained everything in me and it didn't seem to be enough to get through this crisis. I prayed the Our Father and Hail Mary. The phrase in the Our Father "thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven" suddenly hit me. I surrendered my self to Our Lord's will. As I said "pray for us sinners now and at the hour of our death" in the Hail Mary, I was really asking Our Holy Mother for help as well. After a few minutes I truly felt a physical sense of relief in my chest. I was ready to accept God's will. Things did improve over the next several days. I have felt incredibly closer to Our Lord and Blessed Mother ever since.	4/16/2023 12:38 PM

52	Our oldest son was diagnosed with meningitis at 3 weeks old. He was immediately transferred to a children's hospital with a high level NICU and put on life support with a feeding tube and a ventilator, several organs struggling. A week later, and after two failed attempts to remove him from the ventilator, the medical team recommended he be baptized. He was baptized that night by a hospital priest. We had a catholic nurse and respiratory therapist stand in as his Godparents. We were able to use a small flask of holy water my grandparents had given us from Lourdes. The day after his baptism Kyle's color was better and within two days he was breathing on his own. Our marriage, our faith, our path was changed by the experience of	4/16/2023 11:18 AM

Kyle's illness and recovery. We will never know if it was our faith, the baptism, the holy water from Lourdes or the legions of multi-denominational prayers that were said for our small family but we know God was with us and we will be forever grateful for Kyle's full and miraculous recovery.

57	My brother's daughter was born with a congenital heart problem and was rushed to Hershey Medical Center a few days after she was born. My brother told me over the phone that the doctors were not very hopeful. I went to my room and began praying. As I prayed, I "saw" Jesus leaning over my niece's crib and reach to pick her up. I thought he was taking her with him to heaven. I started crying and begged Jesus to let her live. He then kissed her and laid her back down. A few hours later my brother called and said that she was starting to show some improvement so the doctor's decided to go ahead with heart surgery. The surgeon later told my brother that my niece was the youngest patient to ever survive that particular surgery that he knew of. I know that Jesus showed me in my prayer that he loved her and would heal her.	4/15/2023 12:48 PM

59	I have by ardent prayer witnessed the miracles of healing and peace through Christ. Many years ago it was necessary for our daughter to undergo major surgery. We had prayed and prayed for her health and a successful outcome. As we walked beside her and approached the doors to the surgical area I was flooded with a peacefulness which told me she would be okay. While the surgery itself went well, post operatively there were many struggles. She teetered on life and death. The hospital chaplain encouraged us to pray for healing to Saint Padre Pio. Which we did of course. After several weeks she miraculously turned the corner and regained her health. Through the years I have prayed many times to Padre Pio for his healing powers. Very recently I have turned to him again - faith and prayer will see us through.	4/15/2023 9:05 AM

61	I have had many experiences over the years that when I am open to noticing them have reinforced my FAITH in God. These experiences range from spontaneously hearing a particular piece of music that relates to a recent personal prayer to a prayer request for a specific outcome that did not happen but a different outcome happened that turned out better for myself in the long run. This has helped me to pray for God's help in dealing with the issue in a positive/productive manner rather than expecting a miracle just the way I want it to be. In most of the experiences "Time" was needed to eventually receive the bottom line results being requested.	4/13/2023 11:23 AM

78	Last year I had a very upsetting experience with one of my sisters who texted nasty things to me and told me not to contact her again. I dwelled on it for months and was finally coming to terms with it when she attended a family function and she acted like nothing happened. It ate me up inside and I couldn't let it go. Sacrament of reconciliation helped me to let it go, not all at once but slowly. I recognized that she has mental problems and I started privately praying for her every night (even though my telling her I was praying for her when she was sick caused the problem in the first place). I try to be more objective now and grace helped me get to this point.	4/9/2023 3:03 PM

My father was on his death bed and we were told there would be no recovery, never would be able to talk with him, etc. After praying to St. Rita, he was able to communicate with us and we were able to spend his last days with him communicating and coming to terms with what was happening. 94	Not a specific anecdote, but the power of confession is particularly strong for me. When I find myself outside of a state of grace, I am extremely bitter, irritable, angry, short tempered, frustrated, and sad. children and friends. I truly believe that God was listening to me.

109	God spoke to me once when I had not gone to Confession for years (not that I had serious sins, but doctrine in my parish was that Confession was not that important). One day I dreamt I was in the Garden of Gethsemane and it was before His arrest. I asked Him to let me take His place and His reply to me was, "Why do you want to take my place, if you don't feel that Confession is necessary?" I woke up at that moment and it was a Saturday I went to Confession that day. I have not stopped going.	4/2/2023 7:30 PM
110	Every time I experience the sacrament of reconciliation, I feel the joy of forgiveness and a closer connection with Jesus. I prayed to God and thought that Jesus would have to come to my house and help me if we were supposed to go on vacation and would be alright. That day a priest brought the Eucharist to our house.	4/2/2023 2:19 PM
119	When I have asked others to pray for me because I'm going through a hard time, and almost immediately I felt better. Prayers of others sustain me when I am too overwhelmed to pray for myself. I can look back and realize the time I asked them to pray for me was the time I started to feel more peace. Kind of like Jesus' healing stories in the Gospel.	4/2/2023 1:58 PM

130	As a child, I was very sick. I was anemic to the point of passing out regularly (even passed out while serving as an altar server). There was much more wrong and I was undergoing tests for a year or so and the doctors could not figure out what was wrong. My mother, being a very faithful Catholic, had MANY people praying for me. One person, who went to Lourde's, brought back water from there, which I remember drinking. One day, about a week after one set of tests, the doctor called and said we needed to have the test redone. The test results got messed up because it showed no abnormalities at all. We then got the test redone and again - no abnormalities. More tests and more tests - no abnormalities. Now I am 54 years old. People may SAY I'm abnormal, but at least there are no medical abnormalities. Only one explanation as far as I can see. Power of Prayer and Faith. Of course, my mom told me to be ready... "God has plans for you!"	4/2/2023 10:13 AM

I was an inch from the mountain. Later in the daylight I tried several times to brake at this curve but it was impossible. I still remember the feel of the angel lifting my arms and gut feeling that it wasn't my time.	4/1/2023 11:17 PM
133	As my mother was very ill, I said to God that I was very afraid. At noon Mass, at HMC that day, at the end of Mass, Father Stephen Weitzel said he has one more thing to say to the congregants. He said "don't be afraid". I knew that that was my answer from God.	4/1/2023 7:59 PM
134	Often when I would try everything on my own to find answers to what my son needed, like more nursing coverage, I would then say, "OK God, I am giving this to you to handle. I know you are aware of what we need." The next day I get a call that the agency found nursing.	4/1/2023 7:30 PM
135	When I was married, I prayed so hard that my fiancé would have gone to confession and receive Jesus during the Mass when we were married. I was so happy when he did receive that I burst into tears. He continued to receive our lord in the blessed sacrament until he died 54 years later.	4/1/2023 5:29 PM response to me through an experience that happened in the course of my day. I could feel it was God's response to me.

137	Without being specific I feel prayer gives you hope in a world that is vey uncertain. God is there for you no matter how difficult the situation.	4/1/2023 7:54 AM
138	I remember our wedding day as feeling very sacred. I felt as though it was just me my spouse to be and God on the alter. I remember thinking, we are administering this sacrament to each other, what a gift. I get to administer this gift to my husband for the rest of my life daily. It was very powerful. We have a picture of us sitting on the alter during the Mass and it looks like we are the only people there and that is how it felt, even though all our family and friends where there. It's a very special picture.	3/31/2023 11:24 AM

Q17 I think our parish / parishioners should focus more on helping / supporting the following group(s) of people:

5	All the people within our parish first and the above secondary.	4/17/2023 12:58 PM
6	All of these are wonderful causes and worthy of support. My focus would be on how to reach out in a truly helpful way.	4/17/2023 9:44 AM
7	I feel all of these groups need our support in one way or another. We can't do it all. Coordinating with other parishes in our diocese would be one way to include as many groups as possible. Also cooperating with other churches in our area to reach out to those who are in need.	4/17/2023 7:10 AM results. Support for the caring cupboard is something we can all see positive results, in contrast catholic charities is a dark hole we rarely hear what positive things were accomplished

17	We feel that our parish does a lot for all of these needs.	4/15/2023 12:57 PM
18	protestants, local churches, are mission oriented in helping those affected by natural disasters. As a catholic, I feel distant. Also, our parish, needs to stay out of politics. There seems to be a trend in that direction.	4/15/2023 11:12 AM
19	All of the above and ---Being sensitive to helping people to eventually help themselves. Whatever or whoever the focus the result should be to NOT enable dysfunction to continue because of good intentions of the helper/supporter but that the focus be to render assistance that will foster eventual self-reliance.	4/13/2023 11:23 AM
20	I see many people talking and not kneeling on both knees as they pass by or exit the church when the Eucharist is exposed on Wed. after mass. I think this lack of reverence is one reason so many Catholics have lost faith in the true presence of Christ in the Eucharist.	4/13/2023 9:34 AM
21	Checking on widows to see if they are in need of anything.	4/11/2023 10:20 PM

28	Those "former" Catholics who feel no longer welcome in the church.	4/7/2023 8:47 AM
29	I'm generally happy with what we do as a community. Just picked things I think are worthy of more consideration	4/6/2023 6:03 PM
30	We have many ministries in which many of these are already addressed. We just need more people to get involved.	4/3/2023 7:32 PM
31	I have no opinion that is of value with this question.	4/2/2023 7:30 PM
32	I'm sure we could always be doing more but I don't have any specifics in terms of certain groups or how we could be of help.	4/2/2023 6:30 PM
33	I am unaware of exactly what the parish focuses on, but I confident that it's many things.	4/2/2023 5:54 PM
34	One suggestion would be for a group to meet and pray for those struggling with loved ones that left the Catholic Church.	4/2/2023 5:29 PM
35	Perhaps add the families who are struggling with some medical/ emotional need? Those listed above are all good and worthy causes!	4/2/2023 12:44 PM
36	This is hard. I think our community is very supportive of our local community, but I don't know specifics how how much goes where. So, I can't really say we need to help MORE in any one area. We just need to keep focused on helping all who are in need.	4/2/2023 10:13 AM
37	Should be involved in all of the above at some level	4/1/2023 4:13 PM
38	I am not currently aware of where the funds are used today. It would be helpful to know.	4/1/2023 7:54 AM
39	I think that our parishioners are amazing!! Our parish is blessed with the Holy Spirit at our parish.	3/31/2023 11:24 AM

11	I prefer the Catholic Church emphasize Christ's Humanity as well as His Divinity. In other words homilies, behavior, rituals etc that stress that Christ had to deal with the same temptations/daily living adversities/relationship issues that we all encounter as part of being human. That helps people see the sacraments as LIVING not a performance. I think that is even more important as the manner to reach out to our youth to help them return to active life in the catholic church.	4/13/2023 11:23 AM
